

Honor Grove planned at Creekside Park

Fairfield's newest park at Banker Drive and Nilles Road will soon host a grove of trees that can be purchased and planted to honor a loved one, living or deceased. The future arboretum, to be known as Honor Grove at Creekside Park, was created when federal and state grants allowed homes to be removed from flood prone areas along Pleasant Run Creek.

Honor Grove will evolve over time into a professionally designed and horticulturally superior park, according to David Colteryahn, President of Fairfield's Environmental Commission, which has planned the development. As many as 116 trees will become part of the arboretum, which will receive new plantings each spring

- and fall as trees are purchased. Families will
- be notified when a planting will occur so that
- they may participate.
- Tree purchases can be arranged through the
- Parks and Recreation Department's Living
- Legacy Tree Program, which offers three levels of contributions, depending on the tree species and size selected. Contribution levels will be $300, $450 and $600. If desired, donors can designate an amount and allow the Parks Department to select an appropriate tree for its future location.

A centrally located 30-inch by 24-inch cast bronze plaque will list the trees' species and the person in whose honor the tree was planted.

Honor Grove at Creekside Park already offers a serene setting, including an overlook of Pleasant Run Creek and a walkway designed with porous materials to aid drainage.

In making the announcement of the Honor Grove at Creekside Park, the Fairfield Environmental Commission provided special recognition to Jim Montag of Lakeview Nurseries for his volunteer efforts in planning the landscape design and designating the tree selections that would thrive in the future arboretum.

For information about purchasing a tree for the Honor Grove, call the Fairfield Parks and Recreation Department at 867-5348.

The Fairfield Environmental Commission is comprised of seven volunteer members: Veronica Craig, Greg LoBuono, Becky Montag, Tom Nault, Mitch Rhodus and Chuck Ullrich. David Colteryahn is the Commission's chairperson.

Winter! Let's work together...

One fact is certain: it will snow. When it does, Fairfield's Public Works Department is prepared with stockpiled road salt and plows already mounted on its fleet of trucks.

Fairfield is renowned for the high quality of its snow removal services, but the City needs cooperation by motorists and homeowners to respond to a significant snow event. Here is how residents can assist crews in their efforts to safely and efficiently clear the roadways:

- Park vehicles off the street. This will enable plow operators to clear the roadway more efficiently. Driving a plow is challenging enough. Imagine having to steer around parked cars on a slippery street.
- Do not deposit snow into the street when using a snow blower or shoveling a driveway. Not only does the snow require attention by road crews on their next pass, a homeowner could face liability issues should their actions cause an accident.
- Never allow children to play in snow piles along the roadway. A plow operator may not see them when approaching in less than optimal weather conditions, or if the children have burrowed into the pile.

- If possible, wait until the plow has passed before shoveling the area of a driveway near the street. Plow operators are simply doing their job by clearing the street. The snow must be pushed to the side of the road, which also — unfortunately — includes driveway entrances.
- Stack snow on the left side of the driveway entrance (when facing the house) in order to minimize the amount of snow that may be pushed into the driveway entrance by a plow. Plows typically clear snow in the direction of normal traffic, so a large snowpile on the left side of a driveway will be pushed away from the drive entrance.
- Do not try to pass a snowplow or salt truck. Stay 100 feet back from salt trucks.

- Every truck has blind spots, so don't assume the driver can see every area around the truck. Never pull up behind a salt truck.
- The City will not take requests for streets to be plowed. Streets are prioritized based upon traffic volume and terrain. Heaviest traveled streets get first attention so that emergency vehicles can pass. Less traveled streets — like a cul-de-sac or a dead-end street — are plowed last.
- Finally, crews are not superhuman. While they make every effort to clear the streets in an efficient and timely manner, they are limited by the severe weather conditions. Please remain patient during major storm events.

Leaf Collection

Fall leaf collection has commenced and will rotate across the City through January 3. Crews begin collection as early as 7 a.m. and continue until as late as 8 p.m. In order to facilitate pick up, residents should avoid parking in front of leaf piles. Blocked piles cannot be picked up.

In order to facilitate collection, place leaves (and leaves only) in rows or piles between the curb and sidewalk. Do not place them in the street or gutter. Leaves should be piled adjacent to the street in areas without curbs or gutters.

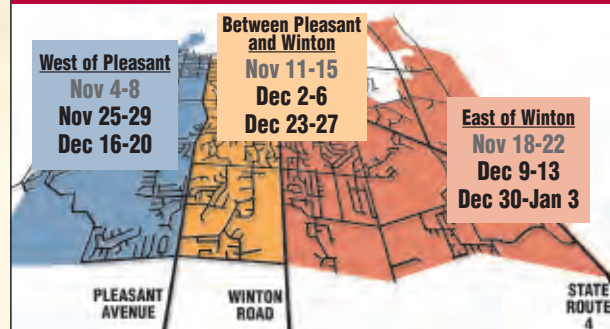

Federal mandates prohibit the placement of leaves in the street or gutter due to their potential for stormwater to contaminate nearby streams. Contaminants also have the potential to leach into the aquifer, the source of the area's drinking water. In addition, debris in the street and gutter can block stormwater runoff.

Due to the large volume of leaves, crews may, at times, run a bit behind schedule. In order to ensure collection, place leaves behind the curb by the posted dates. Special collections will not be made by crews after they have completed an area.

Fairfield's 2013 Leaf Collection Schedule

Progress of the leaf collection effort — including significant delays — will be posted on the City's website, included in utility bills, or placed on Fairfield cable television channel 18.

Residents who miss the annual collection program or have a small amount of leaves may want to bag their leaves for curbside pick-up as part of their regularly scheduled trash collection.

Fairfield OH BUSINESS BOOSTER

Fairfield apartment rehabs on the rise

The Great Recession of 2008-2010 had a significant impact on the nation's housing situation. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, homeownership rates fell during these years, particularly among younger households. Most economists predict that homeownership rates will not return to previous highs in the near term.

As a result, there has been increased demand locally for rental units, sparking investment in new and rehabilitated multifamily construction.

Several owners of apartment complexes in Fairfield have invested significant amounts into renovating their properties in the past few years. These investments have improved both the internal living spaces and the external appearances of more than 500 total units in the City.

Creekside Village

Creekside Village (formerly Heritage Glen Apartments) on Pleasant Avenue recently underwent major renovations. Penklor Properties, which manages more than 800 properties in southwest Ohio, purchased the 10-building, 228-unit complex in January 2012.

The former owner let the property seriously deteriorate, with numerous building code violations and few tenants. A fire-damaged building at the front of the complex was a visible eyesore. New owner Penklor Properties has completely transformed the complex with a multi-million dollar renovation.

New clubhouse at Creekside Village

Each unit has been fully updated, with new kitchens featuring new appliances and granite countertops, new carpeting, new electric and Internet wiring, private decks and more. Outside, the grounds have new landscaping, re-paved parking areas, and improvements to the swimming pool, playground, basketball and tennis courts. Opening soon will be a community clubhouse, with a fitness center and resident lounge.

"The location was a huge factor that attracted us to the property," says Stephanie Robinson, property manager. "Creekside Village is a great spot for residents to call home. We love the overall vibe of the community."

Village Green Townhomes

Village Green Townhomes is a collection of 105 two and three-bedroom townhome style units located along Southgate Boulevard. Owner Bay Point Real Estate, which has holdings in Ohio, Indiana, and Florida, has recently invested more than $2 million into improvements.

Each unit at Village Green

Townhomes has received $25,000 in upgrades, including new windows and doors, upgraded heating and air conditioning units, new kitchens and baths, and new flooring. Exterior improvements include building siding and paint, improved landscaping, added parking, and better drainage systems.

"Some residents report that this is the best place they've ever lived," says property manager Tina Wright. "Homeowners nearby have told us they are grateful for the improvements because of the increase in property values."

Brandywine Court

Brandywine Court is a 54-unit complex located on Boymel Drive, behind Receptions. New owner Brandywine Court

Investors, which owns numerous apartment complexes in the Cincinnati region, was attracted to the large units and numerous townhomes in the complex.

The company acquired the property in October 2011 and began a major renovation in 2012.

The interiors of all 54 units have been renovated. Particular attention was spent on the new kitchens, including stainless steel appliances, new cabinets, new flooring, and updated plumbing fixtures. Exterior improvements include new windows and new vinyl siding. A new clubhouse with a community fitness room and storage area was just completed on the site of the former basketball court.

"We are happy to be part of the apartment renovation revival in Fairfield," says district property manager Jeremy Kanter, who noted the complex is now 100% leased.

Pinnacle Communities

Pinnacle Communities owns approximately 500 housing units in Fairfield, from single-family rental homes to multi-family complexes. Many of these units have been purchased out of foreclosure over the past few years.

Every property that Pinnacle purchases receives immediate capital investment. One recent example is an 18-unit building on Southgate Boulevard that was purchased in 2012. The property was in poor condition, with only a few units occupied. Pinnacle's construction team invested more than $650,000 into the property, which is now 100% occupied.

"Fairfield is pro-active in working with us to get properties rehabbed and back in productive use," says company president Don Helton. 🏡

Pleasantree celebrates 25 years

The Pleasantree Gift Shoppe is celebrating its 25th anniversary. Located at 702 Nilles Road, the shop sells a wide variety of boutique and specialty items, including home décor, jewelry, fashions, baby and kids items, and accessories. 🌿

For more information, call 829-5111 or visit www.thepleasantree.com.

Jeff Wyler Kia to expand showroom

Construction is expected to begin soon on a major expansion at Jeff Wyler Kia. Plans have recently been approved for a 13,000 square foot expansion of the dealership's showroom and service facility.

Numerous auto dealerships on Route 4 have invested in large-scale renovations over the past few years, including Jeff Wyler Cadillac, Superior Hyundai North, Performance Toyota, Busam Subaru, and Fairfield Volkswagen. The dealerships serve as regional destinations, attracting customers from all over the Cincinnati region. Investments in the dealership facilities bodes well for the continued good health of the Route 4 auto mile. 🌿

Axcess Financial brings new jobs to Fairfield

Axcess Financial Services, Inc. recently leased a 59,000 square foot office building for a new customer service center at the corner of Dixie Highway (State Route 4) and Commercial Drive. The company plans to relocate 200 employees from its growing Blue Ash location and will create an additional 120 new jobs at the new Fairfield facility.

Axcess Financial is a financial services company that, through its affiliates, provides a wide range of financial products for its customers. Its family of brands includes Check 'n Go and Allied Cash Advance in the United States and Cheque Centre and Cash Generator stores in the United Kingdom.

Axcess Financial will use the new space for customer outreach, e-commerce marketing, information technology, collections, and call center needs. The hiring and employee transfer process will last through January 2014. The company expects to host a job fair later this year for potential new employees.

"Axcess Financial is pleased to expand its financial services footprint in a way that will create jobs in the Greater Cincinnati area," said Doug Clark, Chief Operating Officer. "This new center will allow our company to better serve the financial needs of our clients and customers."

The company saw Fairfield as a good location for this expansion. "It's not too far from our

Kenwood headquarters. The building itself is a great space with the infrastructure we need," said Communications Manager Scott Sedmak. "The City of Fairfield has been great to work with on the project so far."

The building formerly held telecommunications company PowerNet Global before the company downsized and moved out of the facility in the summer. 🌿

Western States Machine opens

The Western States Machine Company recently moved into its new 76,000 square foot headquarters on Commerce Center Drive in Fairfield. City officials and other dignitaries helped company officials celebrate the opening during a ribbon-cutting ceremony on September 10.

Company officials were pleased with how smoothly the 10-month construction process went. "Western States could not be happier with the construction process. Everyone who participated, including economic development staff and all the inspectors who came on site, were helpful in every way," said David Douglas Buckner, President & CEO. "We believe we have a successful project here and are pleased with the result." 🌿

Gilmore Road to get retail center

Construction of a new retail shopping center is slated to begin in early 2014 along S. Gilmore Road in front of the Meijer store. Situated on 2.6 acres of land, Phase I of The Shoppes of Fairfield will be anchored by a new Panera restaurant that will feature a drive-thru window, which is a new concept Panera is introducing. This will be one of the first prototypes in the region. Other tenants have not been announced to date. Phase II is still in the planning stage and will require City Council approval. 🌿

Lisa's Kitchen now open!

Lisa Hall was devastated when The Red Squirrel restaurant on Route 4 closed abruptly in August. She worked there for 26 years as a server, and her outgoing personality and ever-present smile made most long-time customers think of her as the face of the restaurant.

After thinking about it for a few weeks, the long-time Fairfield resident contacted the landlord and signed a lease to re-open the restaurant under the new name of Lisa's Kitchen.

The restaurant opened on October 14, serving breakfast and a wide variety of sandwiches and soups for lunch. She was able to re-hire many former Red Squirrel employees. "My co-workers are like family to me." 🌿

Lisa's Kitchen is located at 6601 Dixie Highway, just north of Boydel Drive. It is open seven days a week for breakfast and lunch only, and also has party trays available. For more information, call 682-5902.

Environmental Programs

Chipping Program

MONTHLY (EXCEPT JANUARY & FEBRUARY)

The City of Fairfield Parks Department will be accepting limbs and brush on the second Saturday of each month (except January and February). The dates for the fall/winter months are December 7, March 8 and April 12. Limbs can be dropped off from 8 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the site on Groh Lane, past Waterworks Park and the Youth Football Fields. During these months, mulched chippings will not be available for the public (usually available in summer months). Questions about the Chipping Program can be directed to the Fairfield Parks Department at 867-5348.

Holiday Tree Recycling

DECEMBER 26 - JANUARY 6

Here's a way to make your natural holiday tree useful after the holidays. Recycle your tree in the Fairfield Parks and Recreation Department's Holiday Tree Recycling program. Through this program, trees are shredded to produce mulch used in the City's parks and recreation system. Residents, who desire, may also keep the mulch for use around their house.

Trees may be dropped off at Waterworks Park on Groh Lane from December 26 through January 6. A Christmas tree disposal corral will be set up in the Waterworks Park south parking area (the parking lot closest to River Road). Before leaving a tree, please be sure to remove all ornaments and tinsel. The recycling program offers residents an environmentally responsible alternative for tree disposal.

Community Watch: Make your neighborhood undesirable (to criminals)

Criminals often observe neighborhoods before planning their next target. They know what areas offer little resistance and the areas to avoid. Usually, criminals stay away from neighborhoods where residents have a reputation for reporting suspicious activity to police. After all, if neighbors won't tolerate small crimes and nuisance activities, surely they'll be quick to call on activity that could pose a threat or when someone seems out of place.

Active communities are the best partners the police have when it comes to fighting crime. Reporting suspicious activity can not only prevent a crime, it could result in an arrest that solves a string of other crimes.

- For many communities, close-knit neighbors watch out for each other. Some neighborhoods have formally organized a Community Watch group, a crime prevention program that enlists the active participation of citizens. While most residents know their nearby neighbors, a Community Watch program can foster friendships with neighbors at the other end of the block. The goal of Community Watch is to give potential criminals the sense that everyone in the neighborhood is watching their every move and are quick to report activity to law enforcement.

Neighborhoods that desire to organize a Community Watch program should contact the Fairfield

- Police Department at 896-8268 to set up a meeting.

New cruisers hitting the road

The Ford Crown Victoria was, for many years, the standard for police departments. When Ford stopped production of the model, the Fairfield Police Department was faced with having to pick a new vehicle for its three new police units being introduced to its fleet. After reviewing options, the City purchased Chevrolet Caprices, specially produced to accommodate prisoners in the back seat and officers' bulky utility belts in the front seats. The new units

- are also equipped with all-blue LED lightbars, the new standard for identifying law enforcement units. The blue LEDs were determined to be the most effective lights in a study by the Department of Homeland Security and the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

New water mains installed in Winton Hills

Work has begun to replace the water main system in the Winton Hills subdivision. Installation of new water supply mains began with work along Shearwater Drive, greatly improving water quality and fire protection capability in the neighborhood. In coming years, the subdivision's entire system will be replaced as state grants become available.

Changes expected to federal flood insurance

Flood events regularly headline the evening news. The unfortunate reality is that typical home insurance plans exclude all or most damage created by flooding events.

Homeowners, business owners and renters in Fairfield, however, can purchase special flood insurance through the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). Not only does Fairfield participate in NFIP, the City has elected to participate in a voluntary rating program that recognizes communities such as Fairfield that have exceeded federal requirements in the area of floodplain management. Because Fairfield has worked to reduce flood risk, property owners with flood insurance may have realized reduced premiums.

With the many flooding disasters nationwide, the NFIP has experienced significant demand on its reserves. Federal legislation passed in 2012 requires several changes to the NFIP to ensure its reserves can continue to cover claims. The net result may be an increase in premiums when the legislation begins to take effect in 2014. Those with NFIP policies may want to discuss the new legislation with their insurance agent.

For more information, visit www.floodsmart.gov or call the Fairfield Development Services Department at 867-5345.

In 2008 and 2009, the Public Utility Department launched a citywide replacement program that targets older water mains determined to be at the greatest risk of failure. The first area to get new water lines was the Hicks Manor subdivision. Subsequent projects included waterline replacements on Dixie Highway (State Route 4) between Magie Avenue and Bach Lane and also between Winton Road and Nilles Road. The Dixie Highway projects resolved ongoing main break occurrences which impacted businesses with service interruptions multiple times annually.

Additionally, in 2010, a new water main was installed on Resor Road from Windemere Lane to Pleasant Avenue in connection with major road improvements undertaken by the Public Works Department. A new pressure regulator valve station was also completed in the area.

Installation of new water mains begins in the Winton Hills subdivision along Shearwater Drive.

The projects have been funded by the City's long established Capital Improvement budget. All projects were completed on time, within budget and without incurring any debt.

Future projects include a new Seward Road sewage pump station that will be constructed by late 2013 to support the growing Seward Industrial Park. A new Crestwood Drive pressure regulator valve station will also be completed by year end. The Crestwood station work is a precursor to a new water line to be installed on Pleasant Avenue between Resor Road and Evalie Drive. That project is currently under design and is slated for construction in late 2014 or early 2015. As with the other projects, these will also be funded by the Capital Improvement budget and within the current water/sewer rate structure.

Public Works completes resurfacing project

The City recently completed pavement resurfacing work on North Gilmore Road, Thunderbird Lane, and a number of streets in the Lake Michigan Drive area. Old, worn-out pavement was removed and replaced by a fresh layer of asphalt to improve the roadway surface and maximize safety. Additional steps were taken to minimize cracking and extend the life of the pavement. Safety features, such as fresh markings and reflectors, were also installed. Above, crews resurface Primrose Lane.

City website using “responsive” technology

When it comes to technology, change is constant. Through the end of September, about 375,000 visitors had connected to the City’s website so far this year. If every visitor used the same kind of device (such as a desktop computer like back in the early days), creation of the website would be a snap. But in today’s world, an increasing number of visits are made via smartphones and data tablets, all of which present new technological challenges.

Of the 375,000 visits to Fairfield’s website, more than 105,000 (28 percent) were with a smartphone or data tablet. The number grows every month, prompting significant technology changes.

Think about it. A resident needs to check the website and logs in with a data tablet. Another person checks the same information with a smartphone. Both have different resolutions, screen sizes and ratios, all different from a standard computer monitor. To complicate matters even further, one visitor turns her smartphone sideways and the screen changes from a portrait to landscape perspective, with all the elements resizing and snapping into place.

It’s not the device that’s doing the work, but the design of Fairfield’s website, which has recently been reworked to utilize “Responsive Web Design.” The website technology instantly deduces the resolution of the device requesting information and automatically formats the display for optimal viewing on any device.

Fairfield’s web design now utilizes flexible images, fluid grids and other advanced technologies to correctly size the website to fit the screen of any device. Depending on the size and ratio of the screen, images and columns may shrink, the page navigation may be removed, graphic calendars may be converted to lists, and the content may be rearranged so that seamless scrolling can be performed to view all the content found on any full screen desktop computer.

As technology advances, Fairfield endeavors to embrace the latest trends to ensure residents and businesses can stay connected to City information resources. Over the next several months, the City will examine the feasibility of expanding the Community Arts Center’s mobile app to include other City departments and programs.

Rotary names Fairfield Firefighter of the Year

The Rotary Club of Fairfield has named Firefighter/Paramedic Scott Colvin as the 2013 Firefighter of the Year. Colvin is a 15-year veteran of the Fairfield Fire Department. In addition to his regular duties, FF/EMT-P Colvin serves as Station Manager, which makes him responsible for day-to-day operations.

Scott Colvin

Colvin is credited with generating interest in the reorganization of the Fire Department’s Honor Guard, first established in 2002. In its early years, a core of highly dedicated members of the Fire Department devoted countless hours to precision drills and presentation etiquette demanded by high profile public appearances of the department’s Honor Guard.

Over the years, however, original members of the Honor Guard assumed other responsibilities and could not devote the hours required by such a highly acclaimed Honor Guard. New blood was needed to ensure the tradition could continue.

That’s where Colvin stepped in to recruit new participants willing to devote themselves to continue the Department’s dedication to the Honor Guard program. Through his efforts, career and part-time personnel have dedicated themselves to the task, appearing in this year’s Memorial Day Parade, the annual Drum and Bugle Corp competition, the Butler County Fire Chiefs September 11 Ceremony and representing Fairfield at the funerals of five former Fire Department members.

FF/EMT-P Colvin and his wife Lyndsay are the parents of four children.

Bricks may be purchased at the Parks and Recreation Office at the Community Arts Center, 411 Wessel Drive. Forms are available online at www.fairfield-city.org/brick. Activities begin at 9 a.m., ending at 9 p.m. The City reserves the right to close operations when weather conditions become dangerous or wind chills become extreme.

Some pools need to be stored during winter

By now, most pools have been winterized. Some pools, however, are required by City ordinance to be removed and placed in storage. The pools include those constructed on or above the ground and capable of holding water to a maximum depth of 42 inches; a pool with nonmetallic, molded polymeric walls; or an inflatable fabric wall, regardless of dimensions. All storable pools are required to be removed from service and stored away between the period of November 1 and April 1.

State Troopers on patrol in Fairfield

Over recent months, motorists may have noticed that those flashing blue lights in a local traffic stop are mounted on top of an Ohio State Patrol (OSP) unit. The fact is that OSP is not limited to traffic enforcement only along interstates and state highways. Fairfield has a long-standing partnership with the OSP through state grants that target traffic enforcement and OVI laws.

Having the additional enforcement is welcomed by Fairfield Police Chief Mike Dickey, who calls the partnership a win-win for the City. Not only are OSP units enforcing speed limits within Fairfield, they are also helping Fairfield units identify motorists driving under the influence, a priority for both agencies. State troopers are often seen at the Fairfield Police Department as they work with City equipment to administer breath tests.

"It's all about promoting safety in Fairfield," said Chief Dickey. "At the end of the day, if our roads are safer, that's what really matters."
